Kennedy Set to Bring in 6,000 Chinese

By FORREST EDWARDS

HONG KONG (AP) — Blaring Communist loudspeakers today appealed to Chinese fleeing Red China to stay home and help grow needed food. But Red border guards reportedly made no attempt to stop the flow of refugees to Hong Kong.

About 5,000 succeeded in getting across the frontier into this British crown colony before dawn. Sources in the border area said all but about 500 were rounded up by British police and army patrols. They were rushed to a detention camp for return to Red China.

Reports from the sealed-off border area said the Communist loudspeaker broadcasts to throngs massing along the Hong Kong line were given as patriotic advice rather than orders. Border sources said they had nothing to substantiate earlier Hong Kong press reports that Red guards had commanded the waiting mobs to turn back and fired warning shots when their orders went unheeded.

The Hong Kong government expressed appreciation for the interest and concern shown by the United States for Hong Kong's problem.

A government spokesman voiced the appreciation after reports that President Kennedy had cleared the way for between 5,000 and 6,000 refugees to be admitted to the United States.

Missiles Fired Under Water

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The nuclear submarine Thomas Edison fired two Polaris missiles from below the Atlantic surface Wednesday. Both traveled more than 1,500 miles and both shots were declared successful.

The firings, about two hours apart, were the first for the Edison.

Governor Hits N. J. Critic of Reverse Rides

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus lashed back today at the Rhode Island governor's charge of irresponsibility in the Freedom Rides North by asking what northern governors had done to stop the ones south.

Gov. John A. Notte, Jr., accused Arkansas Wednesday of "real irresponsibility in government" for permitting the segregationist Capital Citizens Council to send Freedom Riders north.

Faubus said he had no legal authority to stop the Citizens Council from paying bus fares for Negroes who want to go north.

"It is a free country and this is voluntary," he said. "One has been compelled to go."

Faubus would not comment on remarks that the council action has put Little Rock in a bad light.

Faubus said he had not read Notte's statement, but newsmen told him what the Rhode Island governor said.

Faubus then turned to criticism by some of his opponents of an announcement this week that an additional $1 million might be available for teacher salaries this year.

Several of the men opposing Faubus' fifth term bid objected to the timing of the announcement just two months before the primary election.

"I will be most happy to be criticized every time we get an extra $1 million for the teachers," Faubus said.

The governor merely grinned when asked for comments about opponent Kenneth Coffett's charge that the Highway Department's two-day air tour of the state was political.

"You may write down that I just grinned," he said.

Faubus spent Monday and Tuesday on the air tour which carried him to El Dorado, Hot Springs, Fort Smith, Harrison, Blytheville and Jonesboro.

His remarks at each stop were non-political, but he spent a great deal of time shaking hands with members of delegations which greeted the tour.

Faubus was in his office today for the first time this week. He spent Wednesday surveying his election chances in southeast Arkansas.

Faubus said he plans to go to Hope Friday for a poultry festival at which Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges will appear. The governor said he will spend most of the day in Hope, but he will not be able to attend an affair honoring Hodges Friday night because he has another engagement.

Faubus met Hodges two years ago at Hot Springs during the Southern Governor's Conference. Hodges then was governor of North Carolina.

Criticism Rapped by Council

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two candidates for governor have condemned the Capital Citizens Council's freedom rides north as damaging to the state.

Sid McMath said today that "We shouldn't be advertising our problems. It brings bad publicity to the state and doesn't help our population loss situation."

Marvin Melton said Wednesday that the rides are "creating a very bad image for Arkansas."

The Citizens Council countered that it had received support and contributions to the rides from members of the chamber.

Dr. Malcolm G. Taylor, chairman of the Council's freedom rides committee, charged that opposition to the project may create a business decline.

"If downtown Little Rock suffers another sudden business slump, it will not be because of the segregation activities of the Capital Citizens Council," he said, "but because of the integration meddling of a small clique within the Chamber of Commerce and its associated groups of known racemixers."

Taylor said these groups were the Women's Emergency Committee, the Arkansas Council on Human Relations and the Urban League. The former two groups have leveled criticism at the rides.

Willard A. Hawkins, president of Downtown Little Rock Unlimited, and other businessmen said they knew of no such sudden slumps since the 1957 integration crisis.

Hawkins said Federal Reserve Bank figures based on department store sales solely in the downtown area indicated no abnormal fluctuations.

Meanwhile, the Presbyterian Synod of Arkansas, winding up its 11th annual session here, termed the rides "contrary to Christian teaching."

The assembly said, "the plight of those who have accepted the rides and the prejudice of those who are forcing them are the result of conditions found within our community. It is our responsibility therefore not to remove the victims of our social ills, but to work for the removal of poverty, unemployment and prejudice."

Horning to Get Out of Hospital

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Cpl. Paul Horning, the Green Bay Packer football star, probably will be out of the hospital in five or six days and back to full duty in the Army in two or three weeks.

He was operated on for appendicitis Wednesday. The attack developed Monday night.

Showers in N. Arkansas, No Relief

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Scattered rain dampened northwest Arkansas Wednesday night and more scattered showers were predicted for the state today, but no real relief was in sight to the drought that threatens crops.

Marble sized hail was reported in Fayetteville Wednesday night and there was light hail at Harrison. Showers brought temporary relief to dry pastures and crops and helped stem the water loss in ponds and streams.

The northwestern half of the state had no rain at all last week. Little Rock has had only .09 of an inch since May 1 and the Weather Bureau said that figure applied to most of the state.

Hot, dry weather was forecast until the middle of June, and drying conditions are expected to become extreme in early June. There already has been some deterioration of crops, some wilting of cotton, soybeans and grain sorghum, and the deterioration of vegetables, but there still is time to save the crops with general rain in the next two weeks.

Washington County Agent Carl E. Rose said Wednesday night's rain, .78 of an inch, meant thousands of dollars to farmers in the Fayetteville area, and it probably will save the strawberry crop in Washington County.

It also helped a lot of pasture land which would have been lost in a couple of days. The cherry crop, biggest in recent years, was saved from serious damage.

It was the first measurable rain in Fayetteville in 24 days. Mississippi County Agent Keith Bilhrey said the dry, hot weather has posed a threat to 10 per cent of the cotton in the state's biggest cotton-producing county. That is the part that is not up to a stand. He said 60 per cent of the soybean crop is up and looks good. The other 40 per cent is not in danger yet. The weather could have an adverse effect on the wheat yield, he added.

John Stephens, Crittenden County agent, sounded an optimistic note by saying that "When we

U. S. Seeks to Oust Pro-west Laos General

By ANTOINE YARED

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Royal government officials reported today that the United States has demanded Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, strongman of the pro-Western Vientiane regime, resign his Cabinet posts.

Phoumi, vice premier of Prince Boun Oum's government, controls the royal armed forces as defense and interior minister. The Kennedy administration blames him for blocking negotiations to set up a coalition government in Laos under neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma.

Responsible government officials said W. Arvell Harriman, U.S. assistant secretary of state, summoned the Laotian ambassador in Washington and told him the United States has no more confidence in Phoumi.

Harriman reportedly said Phoumi must quit the government or the United States will be obliged to reconsider its aid to the Vientiane regime.

The Laotian officials charged Harriman with interference in Laos internal affairs.

They charged Harriman's stand was prompted by a personal quarrel he had with Phoumi when the American diplomat came to Vientiane in March to urge Boun Oum to join in coalition talks with Souvanna Phouma and pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong.

Reports from Washington previously said President Kennedy is backing the move to curtail Phoumi's power—preferably by getting him to yield his Cabinet posts and confine himself to purely military matters.

Prince Souvanna Phouma, heading home from France to set up talks with the two other princes, was delayed again today leaving Bangkok by stormy weather over his headquarters at Khang Khay, in central Laos.

AMA Blasted as JFK Insists on Medical Plan

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has made his no-compromise stand on medical care for the aged more emphatic than ever. He insists on weaving it into the Social Security system. He says the public wants it that way.

Firing another broadside at the American Medical Association Wednesday, Kennedy repeated his prediction that Congress will adopt his plan this year if it reaches the House and Senate floors. And he contended that despite AMA opposition, "more and more doctors are supporting it."

Kennedy heatedly attacked the AMA and Republican critics of his medical care program at his news conference—a conference dominated by his strong views on the big legislative controversy of 1962. The questioning elicited these comments and charges:

Kennedy said he does not plan to follow up his current proposal for payment of hospital, nursing home and outpatient bills with a plan to cover doctors' bills. He accused critics of talking through both sides of the mouth. They criticized it one day, he said, for "going too far in limiting the relationship between doctors and their patients, and on another day attacked it for not including doctors."

AMA spokesmen have denounced the plan as "a cruel hoax." Kennedy said the association used the same words in unsuccessfully opposing Social Security in the 1930s. "The AMA may not support this bill, he said, "but I think the American people will, and I think more and more doctors are supporting it."

Would he accept a compromise that omitted Social Security financing? No, he replied, Social Security is the heart of the bill.

The 25-minute conference, short-cut in his experience as President, covered these other points:

Chinese refugees—he announced the United States would admit several thousand refugees from hungry Communist China. The

Missile Explodes, But No Fatalities

CHICO, Calif. (AP) — A Titan missile was destroyed in a blast today as its silo exploded at the missile complex near Chico.

Twenty-four persons were treated for smoke inhalation, the Air Force announced.

There were no fatalities. The other two missiles and silos in the complex escaped damage, as did the control center, the announcement stated.

The explosion occurred as contractors were running a test before turning the base over to the Air Force.

The Air Force spokesman declined to say what caused the blast or to comment on whether it resulted while test fueling of the Titan missile was under way.

The blast was felt in Chico, eight miles south of the nearly completed Titan base. The missile installation has not yet been placed in operation.

Threatens to Sue Little Rock Board

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A suit here was threatened Wednesday for wider integration of schools by Wiley A. Branton, a Negro attorney who has represented school patrons in desegregation litigation.

Branton, formerly of Pine Bluff, now is director of the Southern Regional Council's recently organized Voter Education Project, headquartered in Atlanta, Ga.

Branton said he did not believe the March, 1961 order of the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals to speed up desegregation here was being complied with.

He said, "We are of the opinion that race is the primary consideration in making assignments. It's still the policy of the board to assign as few Negroes as possible."

The school board Tuesday announced assignment of 37 Negro students to high schools and junior high schools, including one newly integrated junior high.

Asked how many Negro students the board would have had to assign to white schools to meet patrons' demands, Branton said, "It has gone past a question of setting up any quota. I think the board simply should do what the court's decisions require of them—that is, to make assignments without regard to race."

Floyd Parsons, superintendent of schools, said the 37 assignments were made from 103 Negro students who requested placement in white schools.

"After a very careful analysis, taking every student individually," he said, "it was determined that these students were those who could function best and function properly in an integrated situation."

Parsons said there is nothing arbitrary about student assignment.

Branton said, "My clients have not been at all satisfied with the actions of the Little Rock School board and the assignment of Negro students in Little Rock."

He said he hoped to file the litigation, "in time to get some decision from the court to make it applicable in September."

Overshoots Site 200 Miles But Rescue Made

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter successfully orbited the earth three times today and then—after a harrowing 35 minutes when it was not known whether he had survived the re-entry—he was sighted sitting in a life raft in the Atlantic Ocean.

A Navy P2V Neptune bomber flashed the word that Carpenter apparently was all right after spotting him in the raft some 135 miles northeast of Puerto Rico.

Floating nearby was the Aurora 7 spacecraft which had carried him three times around the globe in 4 hours and 55 minutes at 17,532 miles an hour.

The capsule overshoot its intended landing area by 200 miles and Carpenter apparently decided to leave it and wait out recovery in the one-man inflatable life raft which he carried aboard the capsule.

The Neptune reported it was circling the raft and said that Carpenter was "sitting upward."

"There was no immediate report on his condition, but the plane said he appeared to be okay."

When the Navy plane first reported sighting the 37-year-old Navy lieutenant commander in the sea, an obviously relieved and happy Lt. Col. John A. Powers, Mercury spokesman, reported to newsmen:

"A Navy P2V Neptune has reported sighting the spacecraft floating in the landing area. Along side it was a life raft, and sitting in it was a gentleman named Carpenter."

An Air Force air rescue service plane reached the area at 1:40 p.m. (EST) and prepared to drop two para-medics into the water to assist Carpenter if necessary.

Meanwhile, two twin jet helicopters were dispatched from the aircraft carrier Intrepid, which was stationed in the intended drop zone 200 miles away.

The Virgin Islands Coast Guard said Carpenter had no apparent problems.

"He waved as the plane passed over," the Coast Guard said.

Carpenter performed his triple circuit of the globe in a masterful display of cool courage.

Housing Big Problem at Hyannis

HYANNIS, Mass. (AP) — The problem of feeding and housing some 30 negroes from the south, most of them children, festered today in this village near the President's summer home.

Most of the "reverse freedom riders" are being housed in a dormitory of a community college, but those rooms will be needed July 1 for students.

It appeared for a while that Mrs. Victoria Bell and her 11 children had found private shelter, but the accommodations were inadequate.

Also quartered in the dormitory are Mrs. Leila Mae Williams and her nine children.

Both families arrived in Hyannis from Little Rock earlier this week. All the arrivals said they had been told jobs and housing would be easy to find in Hyannis, but so far only three men have found employment, two in restaurants and the other in a cement block plant.

School Offers a Course in Reading

L. F. Slatton, Supervisor of the Elementary Schools, announced today that a course in Remedial Reading will be offered this summer. It will be designed for pupils from the third through the sixth who are having reading and spelling difficulties.

The period of instruction will cover a five week period from June 5 to July 7. The fee will be $10 per student for the five weeks, provided as many as 30 students enroll, if fewer than 30, then it would be a little more.

For further information contact the office of the Supervisor at Garland School.

Golfer Hit by Ball, Loses Eye

PERTH, Australia (AP) — A young Australian golfer lost the sight of his right eye when struck by his own rebounding golf ball.

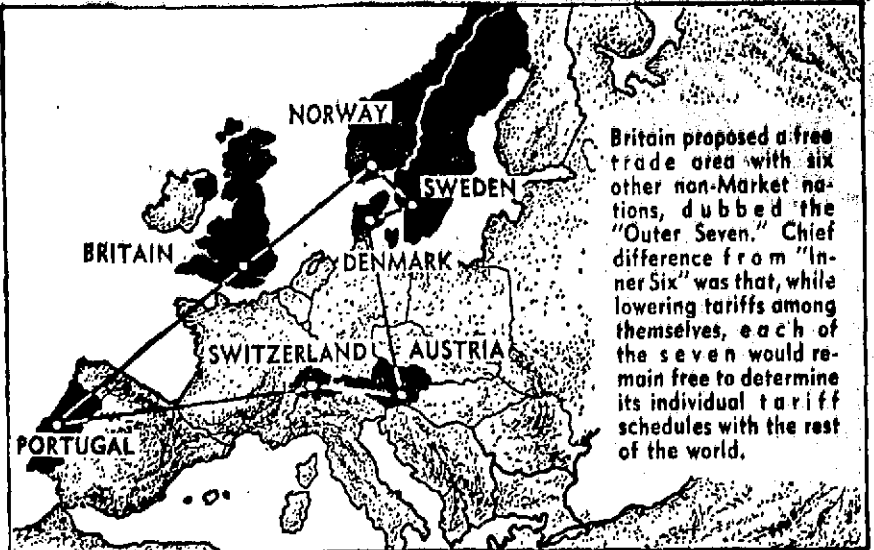

Rex Bentley, 24, was playing in a foursome with his parents and a friend in his home town of Carnamah, 200 miles north of Perth.

When he drove the ball it struck a large stone about three feet in front of him and flew back, striking him in the eye.

What the Common Market Means to You (4) Sixes and Sevens

The Common Market began officially Jan. 1, 1959 with a general 10% lowering of tariffs. Reactions ranged from fear to admiration. Britain, traditionally aloof from Europe and bound by special ties to the Commonwealth, sought means to meet the Market's challenge.

Britain proposed a free trade area with six other non-market nations, dubbed the "Outer Seven." Chief difference from "Inner Six" was that, while lowering tariffs among themselves, each of the seven would remain free to determine its individual tariff schedules with the rest of the world.

But Britain eventually bowed to the force of events. In August, 1961, Prime Minister Macmillan announced that his country would seek full membership in the Market. Today, Greece is an associate member; Spain and Denmark have applied for association.

NEXT: Future of the Market.

Radioactive Iodine in Milk Is Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service reports an increase in the amount of radioactive iodine in pasteurized milk in 12 American cities.

In two cities—Wichita, Kan., and Kansas City, Mo.—the content of radioactive iodine was six times the level considered acceptable by the federal Radiation Council.

Experts said they believed the increase was temporary. In Wichita milk samplings showed 600 micro-microcuries of iodine — 131 per liter of pasteurized milk and in Kansas City, Mo., 600.

In Little Rock the reading showed 30 micro-microcuries.

Before last week's samplings readings in all these cities were below 20 micro-microcuries per below 20 micro-microcuries per curry space capsule shortly after 1:20 p.m. Eastern Standard Time. J. Col. John A. Powers, Mercury spokesman, relieved that Carpenter is safe, reported to newsmen that:

"A Navy P2V Neptune has reported sighting the spacecraft floating in the landing area. Along side it was a life raft, and sitting in it was a gentleman named Carpenter."

Halfway through the third orbit, the Indian Ocean tracking ship reported that Carpenter was still in good condition, that all capsule systems were functioning normally and the fuel supply was satisfactory.

Release of the balloon was one of many experiments Carpenter carried out in his high-flying space laboratory to expand on man's knowledge of ability to perform in the weightlessness of space.

At times, he assumed manual control of the capsule, moving it on its yaw and pitch axis and at times just letting it drift in space without any control. The idea was to determine how far it would wander off path and to see how this would affect radio signals sent from the capsule.

He also made periodic observations of a colored liquid in a transparent plastic tank. The unit was installed to the right and behind the astronaut's head and he looked at it through a hand held mirror. A camera mounted in the craft photographed it continually. The study may reveal much about how liquids perform in space weightlessness and may help design fuel tanks for spacecrafts of the future.

"During the second orbit over the Pacific Ocean Carpenter ate a space meal from a tube containing a mush-like combination of beef and vegetables.

From time to time, he exercised by tugging on an elastic cord. After each exercise, Carpenter took his blood pressure—which gave ground-trackers a vital insight into his condition. As Aurora 7 streaked around the globe, Carpenter glanced down at the earth and had a breathtaking panoramic view stretching 1,800 miles from horizon to horizon. He reported very good views of Baja California as he neared the end of his first orbit and of the West African coast as he took off on his second circuit. From the moment of blastoff here the astronaut reported he was feeling fine.

Justice Department said Wednesday night the flow would begin from Hong Kong in about two weeks.

Estes—In view of the possibility a federal official investigating Billie Sol Estes was murdered, Kennedy was asked if Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman could justify saying the affair had been ballooned out of proportion. Let's not judge the case, Kennedy said, until the FBI and Texas authorities have completed their inquiry. Kennedy said grain is being shifted from Estes' storage bins into normal channels of trade in a way that will not cost the taxpayers—and with more than usual speed "because of all the circumstances."

Southeast Asia—Remarking that "when you put troops in, they become difficult to take out unless the situation is stable," Kennedy said U.S. troops will remain in Thailand until events justify their withdrawal. An Army group in Thailand doesn't carry ammunition—but the ammunition is there and can be supplied at once if needed, he said.

Eisenhower — He and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower are appearing together on a program this week to advocate effective trade legislation, Kennedy said, but as to debating domestic issues with Eisenhower on television during next fall's congressional campaigns: "We will have to wait and see what the situation is."

Economy—In the long haul, he said, the stock market will keep in line with the economy, "and I think the prospects for the economy for this year are good."

Augusta Votes in Plant Bonds

AUGUSTA, Ark. (AP) — Residents here unanimously approved two bond issues Wednesday worth $225,000 to build a factory for Phillips-Van Heusen, Inc.

The vote showed 240 for the issue, none opposed. The vote actually was a revote of an issue approved in 1960. At that time Augusta residents approved bond issues of $60,000 and $90,000.

A decision was made to increase size of the plant, and bond issues of $60,000 and $190,000 were approved Wednesday. Work on the plant already has begun. It will employ about 250 persons, mostly women, in making men's dress shirts.

Dragged to Death

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Gary McGinty, 13, was dragged to death by his horse Wednesday when a lariat attached to the saddle became tangled in the youth's feet. Sheriff Joe Castleberry said the youth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark McGinty, was standing beside the horse when it bolted. Young McGinty was a student at Quitman high school.

Interest Free Loan

WASHINGTON (AP) Approval of a $39,420 interest-free loan to finance planning of sewer facilities in Pulaski County was announced Wednesday by the Community Facilities Administration.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., was informed the loan will go to the Base Line Sewer Improvement District near Little Rock. Total cost of the project is $1,445,000.

Postmasterships
WASHINGTON (AP) — Confirmation of nine postmaster nominations by President Kennedy was announced by the Senate Wednesday. The nominations were: De Witt C. Henry at Beebe, Robert E. Russell at Bentonville, John P. Lamb of Brookland, Martha L. Rakes at Cave Springs, Earl L. Pryor at Greenwood, Ava D. White at Mount Ida, Mary E. Benbrook at Norfolk, Corbit White at Strong and Fred L. Sullivan at Wickes.

St. Francis County Agent Garland Greene said farmers in the delta are not in as much trouble as those further west. "Cotton planted early in the delta is taking the heat and wind, but stands in the western portions of the county are not up high enough," he said.

Only 40 per cent of the cotton in Jackson County is up to a stand said Agent John Coley.

"It's getting on the borderline for planting and replanting cotton with anticipation of a full yield," he said.

Jefferson County Agent Robert W. Schroeder said the situation is not as bad in his area. "Crops are not suffering yet from the dry spell. Eighty per cent of the cotton is in good shape."

He said 50 per cent of the soybean crop has been planted and there is a need for rain to bring it up and allow planting of the rest of the crop.

The Jefferson County situation was much the same as in St. Francis County. Hill pastures are adversely affected, but delta pastures were described as in average condition.

The hay harvest has begun and oats are maturing earlier than usual. Dry weather has reduced the size of the grain and cut down on the yield. Heavy rain now could damage the hay crop.

Group Forms to Oppose Dam

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Ozark Society, Inc., has been formed to oppose building two dams on the Buffalo River in Northwest Arkansas.

Dr. Neil Compton of Bentonville, president of the group, said an effort would be made to organize chapters in Arkansas and other states to keep the Buffalo from being dammed.

Denies State Guard Unit Obsolete

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. Col. Frank M. Angelo of Jonesboro, commander of one of the largest National Guard battalions in Arkansas, denied Wednesday any contention that his unit is surplus, obsolete and no longer needed.

Angelo heads the 875th Engineer Battalion, one of the units threatened under recent Pentagon moves to reduce the strength of the National Guard. The battalion has units at Jonesboro and Stuttgart.

He testified before a House Armed Services Subcommittee investigating the situation, saying he appeared of his own expense as a "full time citizen and part time soldier."

Maj. Gen. Sherman Clinger, Arkansas adjutant general, appeared with Angelo. Rep. E. C. Gathings, D-Ark., introduced both men to the committee, saying they appeared with full approval of the Arkansas National Guard and Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

Angelo told the committee his engineer unit, equipped with $3.5 million worth of modern equipment, was notified for possible callup during last October's Berlin crisis. The battalion, he said, was only recently released from the alert.

He said it costs $4,000 to train a Guardsman and the Army's proposed reduction of 58,000 in National Guard strength would mean a loss of $232 million to the government.

"Now, under directive from the Department of Army...we are told this type of battalion is surplus, obsolete and no longer needed," Angelo said.

It is very hard to conceive that just a few months ago we were so vitally needed, while today we are told we are not needed at all," Angelo said the unit is still in a Priority 1 category in case of emergency.

Clinger said his office was not consulted about the proposed reduction, but given five days to designate units to be dropped. The designation was ordered by telegram, he said.

Neighbor's Daughter a Bully

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: My 7-year-old daughter likes to play with our neighbor's little girl, the youngest of three. All goes well so long as the 9-year-old has her way. While she has never hurt my child physically, she knows plenty of tricks to win her point. My daughter is fast becoming a behavior problem; has nightmares, cries in her sleep and shows no will of her own.

The situation is worsened when my boys, 9 and 10, play with the two girls. The boys will take just so much, then fight back. The child's parents admit she's spoiled but blame the other children. To further complicate things her teenage brother and sister fight for her. My young sons often come home so banged up it is pitiful.

Till now, the other neighbors and I have agreed to let our kids fight it out. But, after my boys were hurt I forbade them to play with any but boys their own age. This lessens the friction though it doesn't solve my daughter's problem.

She feels the need of play with little girls but there are only the spoiled kid next door and two others in our block. Those two have working mothers with just a teen-age baby-sitter to supervise them and this troubles me. When the problem first arose I arranged parties, treats and trips for these neighborhood children and mine, but to no avail. Rather than stand up for themselves, mine will whine to me. While none of the youngsters are actually bad there sure is friction and this gets me down, especially in the summer when there is no school. Any suggestions? —Mrs. O.

Dear Mrs. O.: Your children's problem is universal. Whether or not intervention is the solution re-

Defends State in Face of Publicity

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Three organizations defended the state and its people Tuesday in the face of publicity from "Reverse Freedom Rides" north.

The Chamber of Commerce here said the rides are "unduly written and endorsed by only a handful of persons" and reflect unfairly on the city.

The Women's Emergency Committee, a group formed during the Little Rock school integration crisis to advocate a moderate approach to racial problems, said Arkansas has been dealt a crushing blow by the rides.

And N. R. Griswold, director of the Arkansas Council on Human Relations, said the most serious aspect of the reverse rides is "the re-emphasis of a psycho-pathic attitude toward Negro citizens, an attitude which many southern communities would have the world believe no longer exists."

Griswold said, "In view of the limited exhibition by some 'southerners,' the world can but conclude this inhuman attitude does prevail here."

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce issued a statement after a special meeting. "This experiment in retaliation was undoubtedly provoked by the unhappy and unfortunate 'Freedom Rides South' idea. We are convinced that no problem is solved by the creation of another.

"These incidents, widely reported in the nation's press, occurring as they do at a time when all indices of growth and progress show that the law abiding people of Little Rock and Arkansas are forging ahead industrially and economically, are most unfortunate and unfairly reflect on our people."

Griswold said state leaders could proclaim that there are other aspects to the state than freedom ride sponsors.

"Here is a Little Rock in January, 1962, extending genuine official hospitality of Mr. Carl Rowan, a Negro member of the state department. Here is a Little Rock which voluntarily desegregated the city buses and libraries."

Mrs. Byron W. House Jr., chairman of the committee, said the Capital Citizens Council, which has sponsored one-way rides of 26 Negroes from the state, "has found a way to stay within the fringes of the law and still traffic in the lives of helpless children."

Among the 26 Negroes who left the state were two mothers and their 20 children, who arrived in Hyannis, Mass., Tuesday night.

Mrs. House said that countless hours spent by responsible citizens of the city in trying to eradicate the image of the 1957 Little Rock integration crisis is "completely neutralized by the work of a small group."

Mayor Werner Knop said he received a post card from a Massachusetts man who claimed to be urging a boycott of Arkansas-made products because of the rides.

Knop said he also received a cartoon, clipped from a Boston newspaper, which pictured the "White Citizens Council" as a fat, unshaven character waving to a bus loaded with passengers.

Following the departure of the two Negro mothers and their children from Little Rock Sunday, Amis Gulbridge, president of the Capital Citizens Council, said freedom ride funds were nearly exhausted and rides would be temporarily halted.

Sentence of Life Victory for Salan

PARIS (AP) — A special tribunal's sentence of life imprisonment for ex-Gen. Raoul Salan was interpreted by many Frenchmen today as a victory for the terrorist Secret Army.

The mixed judicial-military tribunal court Wednesday night found the head of the Secret Army guilty of treason but spared his life because of extenuating circumstances. It did not explain the extenuating circumstances.

The same court earlier had given a death sentence to Salan's chief deputy in the Secret Army, Ex-Gen. Edmond Jouhaud. Many Frenchmen felt President Charles de Gaulle's only choice now was to commute Jouhaud's sentence to life imprisonment.

"The Secret Army won," said a white-collar employee on his way to work, expressing a widely held opinion.

The courtroom, packed with sympathizers of Salan and the Secret Army, broke into pandemonium at the announcement by court president Charles Borot that the tribunal had found circumstances to extenuate Salan's leading role in the abortive general's revolt in Algiers in April 1961 and his leadership of the Secret Army terrorists.

Fish Farm Loans

WASHINGTON (AP) — An amendment to the farm bill that would make fish farmers eligible for loans from the Farmers Home Administration was proposed Wednesday by Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark. Nobody Jokes at African Heresy Case

By HENRI JONKER

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — When heresy charges were brought against a Calvinist Dutch Reformed Church leader six months ago, some South African newspapers jokingly conjured up visions of a burning at the stake.

Now, shortly after a verdict of guilty, the case still draws wide attention though nobody is humorous about it any more.

Professor Albertus Geyser, 44, a New Testament expert of the Nederlandsch Hervormde Kerk, was found guilty on one of three charges of teaching heresies. He was defrocked.

On two counts of heresy and the key one of insubordination he was acquitted.

The N. H. Kerk, like the other Dutch Reformed Churches in South Africa supports the official segregation policy.

Geyser disavowed and made his objections public by contributing to an anti-segregation book. For this he was severely criticized at the last N. H. Kerk General Assembly and his resignation demanded.

Geyser was actually condemned for interpreting a certain verse in the second book of Philipians as meaning that Christ was lower in status than God before and after His incarnation and prior to His resurrection. This was objected to as detracting from Christ's true and everlasting Godhead.

Geyser unsuccessfully pleaded that as a learned interpreter of the Bible he had the privilege of freedom. The commission's rejection of this point was mentioned last week by another prominent N. H. Kerk theologian, Prof. A. Van Selms of Pretoria, when he resigned his position in protest against the heresy verdict. This resignation of a man esteemed here and in the Netherlands was the first serious repercussion of the Geyser verdict.

Plant Told to Rehire Workers

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — A National Labor Relations Board trial examiner has recommended that the Fort Smith Chair Co. rehire workers discharged last June during a strike.

The examiner also said the company should pay the workers for money lost during the time since the strike officially ended—Dec. 15.

The company fired 202 striking employees and has rehired 16 of them. The decision could mean back pay as high as $150,000 for 186 former employees, attorneys for Furniture Workers Local 270 said. The local struck from June 1 to Dec. 15 last year.

John G. Ayers, secretary-treasurer for the company, said the firm would file exceptions to the ruling immediately. This means the case will be referred to the full NLRB for a ruling.

River Work Bids

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Markham and Brown Co. of Dallas was apparent low bidder Tuesday on a $663,826. The project calls for work on both sides of the river, including about 8,200 feet of stone-vaulted and 9,800 feet of pile revetments.

Awards Made on TV Are Deserving

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Radio-Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — There are still some bugs in the machinery of the Emmy awards, but this annual bawling within the television industry to reward its best efforts of the year is a fine idea in many ways.

First and most important, the total emphasis is on quality television, currently under so much criticism for its output.

It was noteworthy that on Tuesday night, the little gold statues most often went to programs that rarely, if ever, find their way onto any list of television's 10 or 20 most popular shows.

Take, for example, the play—NBC's "Victoria Regina"—chosen as program of the year. It was seen, unfortunately, by only a small percentage of the vast potential audience because two other special programs were competing for attention at the same time.

"The Defenders" was voted the outstanding drama series. While it is a very popular CBS show, it is invariably watched by smaller numbers than routinely dial in "Wagon Train" or "Bonanza."

Both Westerns which have been standing at the head of all popularity lists this season.

Given their own choices, children would probably turn to cartoon shows like "Popeye" or old movie shorts like "The Little Rascals." But it was Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic Orchestra who won in the children's programming category for their young people's concert.

Of course, certain impossible situations are set up. How could one decide between "The Defenders" series, whose crew must turn out a complete hour long program once a week or so, and the one-shot "Victoria Regina" that took much longer in preparation, or between a situation comedy like "Hazel" and "The Bob Newhart Show," humor of quite another kind?

The annual Emmy show answers specifically those critics who insist all television is a wasteland of mediocrity, violence and brutality, formula Westerns and private eyes and hard-sell commercials.

"Keep your dirty nails away from that. Good heavens, young man, do you want to die of tetanus?"

"I've got one thing to do," I said. "Then I guess it doesn't much matter."

He glanced at me sharply. "The girl, eh?"

"Thought as much. Now you just wait here until I get a few things to fix you up." He walked over to the door, turned off the light behind him until there was just room for his hand, snapped the light on again, shut the door tightly, and was gone.

I sat and stared at the model bathroom, all chrome and glass and ceramic tile, with two washbasins side by side to further togetherness or maybe so you could wash one hand without letting the other know what you were doing. My host's blackout curtain was as simple as it was ingenious: an opaque photographer's camera cloth sealed about the window with broad strips of masking tape.

When he returned, he carried an attache case. He opened it briskly. "Marvelous invention, this. How else could you give such dignity to a clean shirt, shorts, socks, a toothbrush, and shaving equipment? I'm afraid we don't have all we should. Still, we'll have to make do. First a spot of anesthesia."

He pulled out a leather-bound flask, uncapped the two small silver cups, and filled both. "Cheers," he said.

"Cheers," I agreed. Surprisingly, it tasted fine.

"Now if you'll just slip out of that shirt."

I did.

"And your trousers."

First he cleaned my arm and knee with soap and water. Then he sponged them with after-shave lotion. Then he went to work with a pair of tweezers. During the deft torture he chatted amiably. His name was Hannibal Benson. He was an actor by profession.

The Engineers said Trapp, Clippard and Phelps of Little Rock was awarded a contract to survey and designate structures that presently meet requirements for fallout shelters. One For My Dame

By JACK WEBB
Chapter 22

Somewhere in the middle of a semi-void that rather looked like a dining area he said, "I've come to a decision. I have to trust you and you must trust me. Do you agree?"

I said meekly, "Honor among thieves?"

"Good. That's the business. Now, in here please. We'll be a bit crowded. Move just a little. I must close the door."

He did and then he snapped on the light. "This is the one secure room, you see. Bathrooms generally have only one window. It's relatively easy to rig a blackout curtain. Then, with the door closed, I can do my reading."

My host sat on the edge of the tub. I took the other seat. He was wearing a T-shirt and a well-worn pair of charcoal flannels. "I was asleep when you came in," he said, "so I just slipped into my trousers and came to have a look."

He had short cropped hair and neat military mustaches, and his face was tan and I liked his eyes. They were blue and direct. Most of the wrinkles in the corners stood up.

"I say," he told me, "you have been beat up."

I touched the bandage behind my ear. "Gunshot wound's a couple of days old. The rest is rather recent."

"Some of their hired help. A pretty little blonde did the shooting. A gorilla named Vito did the rest."

"We'll have to see what we can do about fixing you up."

"The bruises I'm getting used to," I pushed up the sleeve of my shirt. "This I'm going to have to learn to live with." It still looked as if I'd denuded a porcupine. I began to pick at the spines that were protruding from the flesh.

"Keep your dirty nails away from that. Good heavens, young man, do you want to die of tetanus?"

"I've got one thing to do," I said. "Then I guess it doesn't much matter."

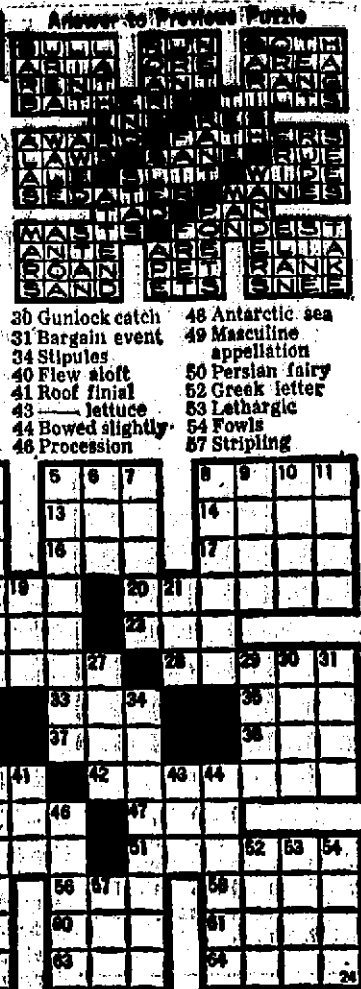

He glanced at me sharply. "The girl, eh?"

Phillies Lick Giants, Dodgers Move to Second

By MIKE RATHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Philadelphia's flip-flop Phillies, rejoining the National League's more respected members for the 1962 campaign, have continued San Francisco's skid and cut another length off the Giants' bulge in that lightning pennant race.

Playing solid ball after shaking off the effects of last year's disastrous 23-game losing streak and a last-place finish 46 games back, the Phillies thumped the league-leading Giants 10-7 Wednesday night.

It was the third consecutive loss for the Giants who up until a week ago were pulverizing the opposition with 17 victories in 20 games and had built a 4½-game lead.

Now the Phils, striving to climb into the first division of the expanded 16-club circuit, have cut the Giants' edge to 1½ games while moving into a virtual tie for sixth place.

The Los Angeles Dodgers moved into second place with a 3-1 triumph over the New York Mets behind Don Drysdale's four-hitter. St. Louis, its six-game victory string ended by a 6-3 loss to Pittsburgh, dropped into third, 2½ back.

Houston blanked fourth-place Cincinnati 2-0 on Ken Johnson's five-hitter and Milwaukee beat the Chicago Cubs 4-2 as Warren Spahn posted the 31st triumph of his career with a five-hitter.

In the American League, first-place New York belted Kansas City 13-7. Cleveland moved into second by edging the Chicago White Sox 5-4. Minnesota dropped to third after a 6-1 loss to Boston and Washington defeated the Los Angeles Angels 7-2. Detroit and Baltimore were rained out.

Tony Taylor and rookie Ted Savage each stroked a double and two singles, scoring three runs apiece, to pace the Phillies' 13-hit outburst against Mike McCormick (1-2) and four successors. Art Mahaffey (4-5) started for the Phils, allowed only four hits through six innings, but had to leave when his arm stiffened. The Giants battled back with three runs each off relievers Frank Sullivan and Jack Baldschun but fell short.

The Dodgers cracked a 1-1 tie in the eighth. Ron Fairly's sacrifice fly knocked in the winner before Frank Howard's grounder added an insurance run. The victory was Drysdale's sixth against three losses. Roger Craig (2-5) went the distance, allowing 11 hits.

The Pirates jumped on Larry Jackson (4-5) for four first inning runs. Ken Boyer homered for the Cards and Bill White went 4-for-4 but it wasn't enough. Harvey Haddix (3-2) got the victory with relief help from Tom Sturdivant and Diomedes Olivo.

Speedway Tournament Underway

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The "500" Festival Golf Tournament, better called the Doug Ford open, today starts its 72-hole run on a fast track at Speedway course.

The 39-year-old Ford, who surprisingly rates second behind Arnold Palmer in the PGA's modern era money list, already has pocketed $18,000 as winner of the first two "500" tournaments.

He is favored to grab his third successive $9,000 first prize against some 143 pro rivals lured by this $50,000 golf event which stirs the holiday atmosphere for the Memorial Day auto classic.

Skipping this affair, which is played partially inside the famed 2½-mile racing oval, is leading money winner Palmer, taking a brief respite from the tourney grind.

State's First Appaloosa Horse Show Here Sat.

CHATAWA'S MAN-O-WAR, A PRIZE APPALOOSA COLT, is pictured with his owner, Roy Young of Independence, La. In four times out the horse has won four first places. He will show here Saturday, along with some 65 other entries, in the first Appaloosa Horse Show in Arkansas. There are entries from six states including a national champion, and a world's reserve champion.

THE ARKANSAS CLUB WAS ORGANIZED IN 1961 WITH Paul Hooper, Camden, as president. There are no more than a half dozen Appaloosa horses in Hempstead. The show is free to everyone. The program includes a Pony of America Show starting at 10 a. m. followed by the Appaloosa halter class in the afternoon and all performance classes Saturday night.

Eichmann Appeals Death Sentence

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Dr. Robert Servatius, Adolf Eichmann's West German lawyer, returned to Israel Wednesday night to hear the verdict on the former Nazi officer's appeal from the death sentence.

The Israeli Supreme Court will hand down its ruling Tuesday in the same court in Jerusalem where Eichmann was convicted last year for his role in the Nazi mass murder of Jews.

Chicago Site for Heavy Title Fight

NEW YORK (AP) — If you've been wondering, or even worrying, where the Floyd Patterson-Sonn Liston heavyweight title fight will be held, you can relax now. Ninety-nine per cent sure says Tom Bolan, president of Championship Sports Inc., appointed promoters by the champion himself, Floyd Patterson.

"Unless something comes up, Chicago is the place," said Patterson at a press conference on Wednesday evening. Patterson has the right to be skeptical since the night before he thought it was all set for Detroit.

"But at the last minute I discovered that the people in Detroit were figuring on having local promoters to help stage the fight."

"I immediately said that was impossible because Championship Sports Inc. will be the sole promoters," said Patterson.

"The only hitch that has to be overcome in Chicago, according to both Patterson and Bolan, is to get a reasonable rental for either Soldier Field or Comiskey Park."

"If they should ask us for a rental of $200,000 or $300,000 for either of those fields then it's something else again," said the champion.

Father of Year Is an Astronaut

NEW YORK (AP)—A man acclaimed for doing a good job above the earth today was honored for doing a good job on it. Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. was named the nation's "Father of the Year."

Although Glenn, as the first American to orbit this planet, has been as far away from his family as any man ever has been, he was rated tops as a family man by the National Father's Day Committee.

He and his wife, Anna Margaret, have two children, John David, 14, and Carolyn Ann, 13.

No U. S. Aid to Segregated Schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Education and Labor Committee has given its blessings to a bill that would bar federal funds from schools which fail to desegregate.

Chairman Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., said that rather than try to get the measure to the House floor via the Rules Committee, he will bring it up under a procedure that requires a two-thirds vote for passage.

"We'll let everybody get on the record with a vote on this," Powell declared. The bill likely would run into formidable southern opposition in the Rules Committee.

Astronaut Gets Best Wishes

OSAKA, Japan (AP) — Soviet cosmonaut Yuri Gagarin extended good wishes today to American astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter "as long as the project is for peaceful purposes."

Last June, when Marshall was found dead, shot five times, his death was written off as suicide. But under the pressure of the Estes investigation, his body was exhumed Tuesday for an autopsy in Franklin, Tex. Later the county medical examiner told county grand jurors his preliminary finding was murder.

The examiner, Dr. J. A. Jachimezyk, was expected to make his final report today.

The FBI also had no comment on the case of Howard Pratt, 31, Chicago office manager of Commercial Solvents Corp., found dead in his car Wednesday of carbon monoxide poisoning. The company's financial relations with Estes, who bought great quantities of liquid fertilizer from the chemical firm, are under investigation.

The Senate subcommittee, headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said it had no evidence of any link between Estes and Pratt, but would look into the death because of a cryptic note found in Pratt's car which said in part:

"the burden of guilt is on my shoulders."

Investigators said they doubted Pratt had any connection with Estes.

A House subcommittee headed by Rep. L. H. Fountain, D-N.C., plans to start hearings Monday on the Estes case, with political controversy already swirling about its ears.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate Republican leader, accused the subcommittee's staff of leaking to the press what he called politically inspired "petty hinting and public innuendo" about two brothers of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

His statements were prompted by a New York Herald Tribune story published Wednesday which quoted an expert on the House subcommittee's staff in connection with reports that the names of Edgar Eisenhower and the late Arthur Eisenhower might figure in the hearings on matters completely unrelated to Estes.

Palmer Calls Oakmont a Monster

OAKMONT, Pa. (AP)—"She's a monster," Arnold Palmer said after coming to friendly grips with his next major golf antagonist—the Oakmont Country Club.

This piece of real estate nestling in the western Pennsylvania hills is the site of the 2nd National Open championship June 3.

Palmer drove the 42 miles from his home in Latrobe, Pa., to play the course for the first time in four years.

"She's going to be awfully tough," golf's leading money winner and prime tournament favorite said after a scrambling 18 Wednesday. "I'm having to revise my estimates. Originally, I said 275 would win the open here. Now I believe it'll be nearer 280."

Palmer toured the 6,916 yard par 71 layout with his professional father, Milfred (Pap) Palmer and two Latrobe neighbors, Harry Saxman and Ken Bowman.

"I didn't keep a score but I must have shot an 80," he said afterward. "I'll play it again later this week more seriously. I should get a better idea then."

Hard Luck Has Left Donovan—Indians Win

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Remember the hard-luck Dick Donovan of just a year ago, with that disheartening string of five successive one-run losses? His luck is a little better this season and so's his record—?

The big right-hander became the first eighth-game winner in the majors Wednesday night when the Cleveland Indians cut loose with another eleven-hour home run attack and overpowered the Chicago White Sox 5-4. Pinch hitting rookie Al Luplow and Chuck Essegian connected back-to-back in the ninth inning as the Tribe won for the third time in a week with ninth inning homers.

By winning the squeaker, Cleveland remained a half game behind the top-place Yankees, who buried Kansas City 13-7 with a nine run eighth inning triggered and capped by rookie Joe Pepitone's home run blasts. Boston beat Minnesota 6-1 dropping the Twins to third, one game back. Washington whipped Los Angeles 7-2, while Detroit and the Orioles were rained out at Baltimore.

In the National League, Philadelphia handed San Francisco's first place Giants their third straight loss, 10-7. Los Angeles tripped New York 3-1. Pittsburgh beat St. Louis 6-3. Houston shut out Cincinnati 2-0. And Milwaukee beat Chicago 4-2.

Donovan was tagged for 10 hits, one a two-run homer by Al Smith in the first, but singled in one run himself as the Indians stayed close to the White Sox all the way.

Dom Zanni, who had pitched very strongly in relief of Juan Pizarro, was the victim of Cleveland's uprising in the ninth. Luplow led off with his score-driving homer into Comiskey Park's lower left field deck and Essegian promptly zeroed in on the same sector.

Pepitone and fellow rookie Phil Linz, both fill-ins for the injury-hobbled Yankees, produced handsomely in the explosive rout of the A's. Heid to four hits by Dan Pfister and trailing 7-4 going into the last of the eighth, the Yanks sent 12 men to bat in the inning.

Pepitone kicked off the rally with a homer and climaxed it with another with two aboard, becoming the 15th major leaguer to homer twice in one inning. Linz took over at third after Cleto Boyer was hit on the wrist by a pitch in the third, homered in the seventh with one on for his first hit in the majors, and sent the Yanks ahead with a two-run single in the big ninth.

Tex Clevenger, called up from the minors Tuesday was the winner with one inning of relief and Diego Segui took the loss. Jimenez whacked a homer for the A's.

The Red Sox put a halt to their eight-game skid behind the seventh inning pitching of Earl Wilson and Dick Radatz. Gary Geiger had a homer and double in Boston's 13-hit offensive against Don Lee and two Minnesota relievers. Ed Bresoud also homered. Rich Rollins' homer accounted for the Twins' lone run.

Pete Burnside pitched a nine-hitter for the last-place Senators, who broke away from the Angels in the first three innings with seven runs—four of them unearned. Ted Bousfield was the losing pitcher.

City Asking Help to Halt 'Riders'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The citizens of Cape Cod, Mass., have asked for help to stem the flow northward of Negroes given one-way bus tickets by segregationist groups in the South.

The actions were taken while two Negro women and their 20 children were aboard buses on their way from Little Rock, Ark., to Hyannis, Mass.

President Kennedy and other members of his family own summer homes in Hyannis Port, which is only four miles from Hyannis where the bus rides terminate. Hyannis and Hyannis Port are parts of the Town of Barnstable.

At the statehouse in Boston, Republican Rep. Allan F. Jones of Barnstable appealed to Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy to join with Southern legislators to "do all in their power to stop this evil scheme."

Jones described the Negro riders as "pawns in a diabolical, inhuman game of revenge." He said they were being told "an indecent lie that good homes and good jobs await them when they arrive."

At Hyannis, selectmen met in emergency session and appealed to U.S. House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., to formulate legislation against any state exporting welfare cases.

Twelve Negroes have arrived in Hyannis during the past 10 days and all but two have been given quarters in a dormitory of the Cape Cod Community College in Hyannis. The two mothers and their 20 children are to be lodged there.

A Chicken for Every Pop!

On Father's Day, June 17th, every Pop deserves the best—and that goes for the dinner you serve him.

Because chicken is such a favorite, you can be sure that it will please Dad on his day. And Crispy Oven-Fried Chicken, a prize-winner in the National Chicken-Cooking Contest, is just about the best dish any father ever set tooth to. The blue-ribbon bird has a crisp coating of dry rice cereal and is baked rather than cooked in a skillet. Serve it with chicken's most devoted companion, canned cranberry sauce.

Dad apparently appreciates chicken all year long, for according to the National Broiler Council it is the most popular of the leading meats. It is kind to waist-watching fathers, too, for chicken is low in calories.

This year, fathers from coast to coast will be sitting down to the table to enjoy Crispy Oven-Fried Chicken. That's celebrating Father's Day in just the fashion sure to please him most!

Crispy Oven-Fried Chicken

1 1/2 cup butter or margarine 1 broiler-fryer chicken, cut in serving pieces
1 1/2 teaspoons salt 3 1/2 cups dry rice cereal, finely crushed
1/2 teaspoon pepper 1/2 teaspoon paprika

Melt butter with salt, pepper and paprika. Dip chicken pieces, one at a time, in melted butter mixture, then roll in cereal crumbs. Arrange in a single layer in a large shallow baking pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) 1 hour. Serve with cranberry sauce. Yield: 4 servings.

Commission Pleased With 'Airlift'

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Highway Department is so pleased with results of its first information airlift that the event may become an annual feature of National Highway Week.

"It was successful beyond my greatest hopes," Highway Director F. R. Oliver said when the two-day air tour of the state ended Tuesday. "I believe we should do it every year if arrangements can be made."

Gov. Orval E. Faubus and Little River Rep. Marion Crank, who joined about 40 Highway Department officials, Bureau of Public Roads personnel, construction industry executives and newsmen on the tour, echoed Oliver's sentiments.

The whirlwind tour hit six cities in the two days. At each stop the group met with civic leaders from the host city and surrounding areas. Highway matters were discussed both in formal talks and informally over coffee or meals.

Each city had a different program ready. At El Dorado the first stop Monday, and Jonesboro, the last stop Tuesday, the programs were at the airports.

Hot Springs entertained the group at lunch Monday and Fort Smith was host at dinner Monday night. Harrison took the tourists on a motorcade through the downtown area, then provided coffee and donuts at a hotel.

Blytheville and the Blytheville Air Force Base were co-hosts at Tuesday's luncheon meeting in the air base officers' mess.

Oliver told audiences at each stop about work the Highway Department has done or is planning. He said the latest Bureau of Public Roads report shows Arkansas stands No. 2 among the states in use of available federal highway funds.

For the first time in his 2-year connection with Arkansas highways, Oliver said, the department is ahead of schedule on using federal funds for primary roads.

Oliver said the department had let $50 million in contracts since last July one and planned to let an additional $4 million today. If the June letting reaches the anticipated figure of $5 million, he said, fiscal 1961-62 will be the greatest construction year in Arkansas highway history.

Faubus generally steered clear of politics in the short speeches he made at each stop. He discussed highway problems and progress, introducing himself as a "politician on a non-political mission."

Ten planes—nine of them donated by construction firms—carried the tourists around the state. The tour stayed on schedule all day Monday, but Tuesday it fell behind at Harrison where Faubus, among his home area folks, talked for 15 minutes instead of the usual five.

Then Jonesboro greeted the delegation with the largest turnout of the tour—about 750 persons, mostly Arkansas State College students. The tour ended one hour late, after more than 700 miles of travel and six stops.

The two highway commissioners who made the entire tour—Truman Baker of Searcy and Wayne Hampton of Stuttgart—let Oliver and Faubus handle the speech-making.

But they talked earnestly about local highway problems in the informal sessions. Hot Springs, Harrison and Jonesboro greeted the delegation with specific requests.

Garland County Judge Henry Murphy handed Baker a petition with 1,081 names asking improvement of a county road to a fish hatchery.

Harrison wanted Highway 7 relocated through the city in connection with an urban renewal program. The city offered to provide right of way, utility line relocation and fill material at no cost to the state.

Jonesboro presented four requests costing an estimated $15,000 for filming of the motion picture "Cleopatra."

Mrs. Blitch said producers of the film have hurt the prestige of American womanhood abroad. She called the Roman affair "the world's most assiduously publicized piece of sexual vulgarity."

The 50-year-old congresswoman asked Congress to serve notice that Americans do not "condone such behavior by their nationals and those under their responsibility—that American womanhood is not depraved and wanton as depicted—that marriage and the family are still sacred institutions in these United States."

"Communists chuckle because the Roman spectacle seems to prove their thesis that capitalists are unscrupulous, depraved, wanton and decadent and that capitalism breeds these undesirable traits," she said in a speech read in part before the House, and inserted in full in the Congressional Record.

She said because of "unscrupulous profiteers, the ugly American image gained a further boost. There cannot be any doubt that our foreign aid program has been directly affected by this revolting fiasco."

Child Crushed in Elevator

NEW YORK (AP)—A 3-year-old girl who took an elevator ride alone was crushed to death between the wall and the moving elevator.

Police said the victim, Laura Jones, somehow managed to get the inner door open and look hold on the fourth-floor outer door as the self service elevator descended in a Brooklyn apartment house.

The Arkansas State College group came up with four more, all but one asking for traffic control on Highway 173, which runs through the campus.

The fourth request was for relocation of 173.

Chambers of Commerce at each stop took responsibility for greeting the tourists.

Faubus said he felt the tour was beneficial because it took highway commissioners and officials to meet the people in key areas and it permitted these people to get a better understanding of how the Highway Department operates.

Oliver mentioned at each stop that the Arkansas Highway Department is free of scandal. He introduced himself at Fort Smith as the "guardian of the Mack-Blackwell Amendment," the document designed to keep the Highway Department out of politics.

Oliver said he had had no trouble, during his three years as director, in maintaining spirit of the amendment.

Law on TV Wins Over Medicine

By JAMES BACON

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The law, as practiced on television, won out over medicine Tuesday night in the 14th annual Emmy Awards show.

"The Defenders," CBS-TV's potent courtroom series, won four Emmys to emerge as champ of the television awards.

The win, reflecting solid voting from New York members of the Television Academy, was an upset. "Ben Casey," television's sullen medical drama, was a favorite with eight nominations, but when the operation was over, Casey had struck out.

"The Defenders" won Emmys for outstanding drama; for best actor for star E. G. Marshall; best director for Franklin Schaffner; and for best writing for Reginald Rose, its creator.

Even Queen Victoria did better than "Ben Casey." The Hallmark production of "Victoria Regina" won best actress award for Julie Harris; best supporting actress for Pamela Brown, and the show was adjudged best program of the year.

The best actor award went to Peter Falk, who was nominated for his role of a truck driver in "The Price of Tomatoes" on the Dick Powell Show.

Shirley Booth, winner of a movie Oscar and numerous stage awards, won an Emmy for best actress in a series.

Don Knotts, the deputy on the Andy Griffith show, won his second supporting actor Emmy in a row.

The Gary Moore Show was named best variety show, and its comedienne, Carol Burnett, was named best variety artist. Special trustee awards were given to CBS news for its tour of the White House and to Jacqueline Kennedy, the tour's pretty conductor.

Heads of the news departments of ABC, CBS and NBC also got trustees awards for coverage of the year's most exciting television program — astronaut John H. Glenn Jr.'s orbits around the earth.

Both Sides Have Refugee Problems

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Communist East Germany and Communist China both have refugee problems. The former acted. The latter hasn't. The failure of the Red Chinese to act is a puzzle.

One thing is obviously certain although it may not be the reason why so far the government of Communist China has taken no visible steps to halt the refugee flight.

It can better afford to lose manpower than the Communists of East Germany were fleeing westward only about 17.5 million people. In Red China there are about 670 million.

One of the worst advertisements for communism in East Germany—just across a frontier from amazingly prosperous West Germany—was that about 200,000 East Germans were fleeing westward yearly.

As the Berlin crisis increased last summer the flow of East German refugees was about 50,000 in July, or almost double the previous monthly rate.

In August, before the wall went up, the rate was doubling the July figure. About 2,000 a day were getting out.

Since the Red Chinese took over the mainland of China in 1949, about 115,000 Chinese refugees a year poured into the British colony of Hong Kong.

In recent months—a reflection of belt-tightening times in Red China—the number of refugees shot up. The British, unable to accommodate this river of people, have been sending them back.

Only last April the Red Chinese leadership openly admitted that its "great leap forward" had landed in the mud, that the government had suffered natural calamities and a bungled-up economy.

The China mainland had severe food shortages in recent years and had to import wheat. Family life was demoralized through the communes. Life for the Chinese peasantry was even harsher than in the past.

Several questions arise from the flight of the refugees to Hong Kong: was the Red Chinese government encouraging such flights because they meant fewer mouths to feed? There's no evidence so far to show this.

An optimistic Westerner might like to conclude that the flights somehow indicated some disaffection and loss of control in the Red Chinese government. There's nothing to indicate this, either.

At the very moment last April that the regime was admitting failures, there was no sign of cracks or weakness but only a determination to plunge ahead to make the system work, even if it meant more work from the people.

At the moment—despite the had publicity it gets from the refugee dash out of Red China to Hong Kong—it would seem reasonable to guess that government's attitude is that it has a lot of problems and a few thousand Chinese, more or less, won't make much difference.

Gives Viewers Break

LETTIE ROCK (AP)—Sam Boyce of Tuckerman, a candidate for attorney general, said Tuesday he wants to give the television viewing public a break on election eve, July 30. Boyce said he has purchased a half-hour of prime television time that night, but won't use it for campaigning. Instead, he said, he'll have the station carry a regular program or a special one with local talent.

Bank Robber Kills Two and Is Killed

OZARK, Ala. (AP)—A posse killed a would-be bank robber during a gun battle after he had slain two bank employees and a policeman and wounded two others.

Dr. Eugene Simpson Gault, 43, a chiropractor, was shot to death Tuesday as he crouched between two tombstones in a rural church graveyard about 30 miles from this southeast Alabama town where he had tried to rob the Commercial Bank.

Officers said Gault killed Fred Flowers, 55, a bank vice president, and David Jackson, 33, a teller, during the abortive hold-up, then killed J. H. Youngblood, acting chief of police of Troy, Ala., during a frantic flight. He wounded another policeman during his escape attempt and a civilian during the gunfight at the cemetery.

Police and the bank president, Douglas Brown, gave these details: Gault entered the bank about 2:30 p.m., with a pistol in his hand. Flowers ducked behind a counter but Gault jumped onto the counter and shot him. Jackson, the teller, let several women employees flee through a back door but he was shot down before he could get away.

Gault fled without getting any money and raced to Clio, a small town about 20 miles north of Ozark, where Police Chief Bill Roberts tried to stop him. The fugitive wounded Roberts and Roberts apparently winged him. Gault kept going, with a posse of Clio civilians trailing him.

Near Troy, 23 miles northwest of Clio, Gault killed his third victim—Youngblood. The Troy officer had seen the gunman drive behind a rural store.

A few minutes later two civilians reported spotting the fugitive's car outside Troy. Officers found the car parked behind a church next to a cemetery.

They closed in. Gault, hunched down between two tombstones, civilian from Clio, Floyd Holland, exchanged shots with them. He was wounded.

A highway patrolman, armed with a carbine, circled around behind Gault and killed him. They found $19 in his wallet.

Gault had a chiropractic clinic in Prattville, a small town near Montgomery about 10 miles north of Ozark. A note found on the clinic door said: "Emergency, called out. Please come or call for appointment Wednesday."

Dr. Henry Scott of Birmingham, secretary-treasurer of the Alabama State Chiropractic Association, said Gault had been dropped from the association rolls in June 1960 for non payment of dues.

Few Unhappy About the TV Awards

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—If any people are really unhappy about Tuesday night's awards of Emmys, television's equivalent of the movies' Oscars, it must be the West Coast folk who proclaim so loudly that Hollywood is the television capital. Hollywood received 5 Emmys, compared with 15 for New York and 2 for Washington.

If there is another unhappy group it can only be the American Broadcasting Co. The network garnered but one during the evening, voted to Richard Rodgers for his score in last season's "Winston Churchill" series. NBC carried off 11 statues and CBS, 10.

The award ceremonies, on NBC, was a fast, no-nonsense show, and it finished only about 20 minutes overtime, which is better than par. Instead of spending a lot of time on special material—kidding Westerns and television commercials—it limited speeches to a few seconds—Julie Harris was the only one who cried—and, between presentations, used brief taped performances by the variety stars nominated for awards. This made good sense.

Speaking personally—and, after all, one's enjoyment of television is a very personal matter—this viewer thought the awards for the most part went into the hands of those most deserving them.

While I would not complain for a moment about Julie Harris' award for playing the title role, I would, however, quibble about "Victoria Regina" as television's "Program of the Year." It was a fine show but it was merely a faithful adaptation of a play which had been a Broadway hit.

CBS' "The Defenders" series made the record by picking up four of the precious statues—outstanding dramatic program, E. G. Marshall as outstanding series actor, writing and directorial awards, all thoroughly deserved. Certainly no program merited this award more than the weekly variety "Garry Moore Show," which never seems to have an off night. Carol Burnett, of course, has no peer in her own comedy and song field. Neither does Shirley Booth have much competition in the acting field. She was picked for her "outstanding continued performance" as the star of "Hazel."

The "Bob Newhart Show" earlier won a Peabody Award for comedy, and Tuesday night it got an Emmy for achievement in the field of humor. The program has been cancelled by its sponsor, so maybe next they'll give Bob an Emmy for outstanding irony.

The Huntley-Brinkley news team continued to be unbeatable, and David picked up an extra happy to see Carl Reiner get statue for his "Journal," which some recognition for "The Dick Van Dyke Show," as a talented, if balding, writer.

Robberies reported to U. S. city police departments in 1960 increased 17.3 per cent over the preceding year.

U. S. Alarmed Over China Refugees

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials are becoming alarmed about the massive flow of refugees from Communist China into the British crown colony of Hong Kong.

The exodus has become so great that thousands of refugees are being sent back across the border.

The White House, State Department and other government authorities are trying to figure out how the United States can help Britain deal with the situation. Shipments of food and other relief supplies are possible as a first step.

President Kennedy was expected to discuss the problem at his news conference late today. In a message Tuesday to the United States Committee for Refugees, meeting here, he said the United States must show compassion to all those who flee from Communist tyranny.

On Capitol Hill there were demands that the United States use its huge resources of surplus food to help the Chinese refugees.

A Senate Judiciary subcommittee plans to open an inquiry next week into the plight of the refugees. State Department officials will testify Tuesday.

In Toronto, Prime Minister John Diefenbaker said that Canada will admit 100 families of the refugees immediately. He said Canada also will provide food and relief for the refugees in Hong Kong.

The Chinese Nationalist government on Formosa has shown a definite interest in taking refugees. But the belief in Washington is that the number of those who may get to Formosa will probably total only a few thousand. The need is for resettlement of scores of thousands.

An estimated 9,000 refugees were caught after they got through the border barricades into Hong Kong during the previous 48 hours, officials reported Tuesday. This brought to nearly 50,000 the number rounded up and forced back returned since May 1. Another 8,000 to 10,000 were believed to have found haven in Hong Kong's crowded tenements.

One of the alarming elements in the situation as U.S. officials see it is the danger of an eruption of violence in the crowded British colony where facilities already are so strained that British authorities feel it necessary to turn back into Red China thousands who crossed the border.

The danger arises from the fact that the hundreds of thousands of Chinese who took refuge in Hong Kong in earlier years are sympathetic with the needs of their fellow countrymen and resent their being returned behind the barbed wire barricades.

Another source of anxiety here is that the outpouring of refugees is only at a beginning and that every effort to provide relief may prove in the long run to be an added inducement for more Chinese to make their way across the border.

Three in five U. S. workers go to work in automobiles, one in eight uses public transportation and one in 10 walks to work.

Bearden Plant Has Expanded

BEARDEN, Ark. (AP)—Bearden Enterprises, a home-owned garment manufacturer, has opened a new factory in Bearden and plans to employ 25 to 50 additional workers.

Charles Epting, plant manager, said the plant will be in full operation by July 1. The original factory was built six years ago. It employs 160 workers.

The plant makes jackets, smocks and blouses.

Against Cut in National Guard

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Lt. Col. Frank Angelo, commanding officer of the 875th Engineers Battalion, is scheduled to appear before the House Armed Services Subcommittee in Washington today to testify against a proposed cut in National Guard strength.

Angelo will be accompanied by Rep. E. C. Gathings, D-Ark.

A recent proposal to reduce the strength of the guard would eliminate the 875th Engineers, which has more than 500 men at Jonesboro and 135 at Stuttgart.

The Jonesboro Chamber of Commerce led a strong local protest against the proposed cut. Arkansas' two senators and the congressional delegation have voiced their opinion against the reduction in the size of the guard.

One-half of all traffic accidents occur within 15 miles of the driver's home.

Convict Escapes From Tucker

TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP)—A 23-year-old convict from Chicago escaped from Tucker Prison Farm Tuesday night, and was still at large today.

Capt. Jim Bruton, assistant superintendent of the state prison, said the man is James Malcaluso, who was convicted of burglary, grand larceny and for possession of stolen goods.

Malcaluso is 5-6, 146 pounds with brown hair and blue eyes.

Bruton said the prisoner was tracked to the Dudley Lake area, two miles northeast of the prison.

Bruton also said the escapee is barefoot. Malcaluso was seen leaving a garden squad Tuesday afternoon, Bruton said. The area around the prison is being combed by sheriff's deputies, State Police and other law enforcement officers.

Vote So Close Oklahoma Not Sure Now

By SHELBY SCATES

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—W. P. Bill Atkinson, a millionaire home builder apparently defeated former Gov. Raymond Gary Tuesday in the run-off primary for Democratic nomination for governor of Oklahoma.

However, the vote was so close the official tabulation—or a recount—could reverse it.

To guard ballot boxes until the official tabulation is completed, Gov. J. Howard Edmondson dispatched state highway patrolmen to each of the state's 77 county election board offices.

Edmondson ordered National Guardsmen to relieve the state troopers later today.

Cause of the concern was the 533 votes separating Atkinson and Gary and the prospects of a recount.

The official vote tabulation was not expected until Saturday. Complete, but unofficial returns, from all 3,143 precincts gave Atkinson 232,023 votes, Gary 231,490.

The winner will face former Henry Bellmon in the November general election. Bellmon won the Republican nomination against the opposition May 1.

Atkinson, 55, who made his fortune developing suburban Midwest City, trailed Gary by 85,000 votes in the May 1 primary, when the pair led off of 12.

Gary, 54, indicated he might call for a recount if the official tabulation still shows him trailing. Gary sought to become the first two-term governor in Oklahoma's history.

Key issues in the race were state finances and legislative reapportionment.

Edmondson can't succeed himself under the state's constitution.

Fruit trees should be pruned annually, usually while the trees are dormant, but some pinching-off should be done throughout the growing season.

Both Sides Have Refugee Problems

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Communist East Germany and Communist China both have refugee problems. The former acted. The latter hasn't. The failure of the Red Chinese to act is a puzzle.

One thing is obviously certain although it may not be the reason why so far the government of Communist China has taken no visible steps to halt the refugee flight.

It can better afford to lose manpower than the Communists of East Germany were fleeing westward only about 17.5 million people. In Red China there are about 670 million.

One of the worst advertisements for communism in East Germany—just across a frontier from amazingly prosperous West Germany—was that about 200,000 East Germans were fleeing westward yearly.

As the Berlin crisis increased last summer the flow of East German refugees was about 50,000 in July, or almost double the previous monthly rate.

In August, before the wall went up, the rate was doubling the July figure. About 2,000 a day were getting out.

Since the Red Chinese took over the mainland of China in 1949 about 115,000 Chinese refugees a year poured into the British colony of Hong Kong.

In recent months—a reflection of belt-tightening times in Red China—the number of refugees shot up. The British, unable to accommodate this river of people, have been sending them back.

Only last April the Red Chinese leadership openly admitted that its "great leap forward" had landed in the mud, that the government had suffered natural calamities and a hanged-up economy.

The China mainland had severe food shortages in recent years and had to import wheat. Family life was demoralized through the communes. Life for the Chinese peasantry was even harsher than in the past.

Several questions arise from the flight of the refugees to Hong Kong: was the Red Chinese government encouraging such flights because they meant fewer mouths to feed? There's no evidence so far to show this.

An optimistic Westerner might like to conclude that the flights somehow indicated some disaffection and loss of control in the Red Chinese government. There's nothing to indicate this, either.

At the very moment last April that the regime was admitting failures, there was no sign of cracks or weakness but only a determination to plunge ahead to make the system work, even if it meant more work from the people.

At the moment—despite the bad publicity it gets from the refugee dash out of Red China to Hong Kong—it would seem reasonable to guess that government's attitude is that it has a lot of problems and a few thousand Chinese, more or less, won't make much difference.

Gives Viewers Break

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Sam

Boyes of Tuckerman, a candidate for attorney general, said Tuesday he wants to give the television viewing public a break on election eve, July 30. Boyes said he has purchased a half-hour of prime television time that night, but won't use it for campaigning. Instead, he said, he'll have the station carry a regular program or a special one with local talent.

Bank Robber Kills Two and Is Killed

OZARK, Ala. (AP)—A posse

killed a would-be bank robber during a gun battle after he had slain two bank employees and a policeman and wounded two other men.

Dr. Eugene Simpson Gault, 43, a chiropractor, was shot to death Tuesday as he crouched between two tombstones in a rural church graveyard about 30 miles from this southeast Alabama town where he had tried to rob the Commercial Bank.

Officers said Gault killed Fred Flowers, 55, a bank vice president, and David Jackson, 33, a teller, during the abortive hold-up, then killed J. H. Youngblood, acting chief of police of Troy, Ala., during a frantic flight. He wounded another policeman during his escape attempt and a civilian during the gunfight at the cemetery.

Police and the bank president, Douglas Brown, gave these details:

Gault entered the bank about 2:30 p.m., with a pistol in his hand. Flowers ducked behind a counter but Gault jumped onto the counter and shot him. Jackson, the teller, shot several women employees flee through a back door but he was shot down before he could get away.

Gault fled without getting any money and raced to Clio, a small town about 20 miles north of Ozark, where Police Chief Bill Roberts tried to stop him. The fugitive wounded Roberts and Roberts apparently winged him. Gault kept going, with a posse of Clio civilians trailing him.

Near Troy, 23 miles northwest of Clio, Gault killed his third victim—Youngblood. The Troy officer had seen the gunman drive behind a rural store.

A few minutes later two civilians reported spotting the fugitive's car outside Troy. Officers found the car parked behind a church next to a cemetery.

They closed in. Gault, hunched down between two tombstones, exchanged shots with them. He was wounded.

A highway patrolman, armed with a carbine, circled around behind Gault and killed him.

They found $19 in his wallet. Gault had a chiropractic clinic in Prattville, a small town near Montgomery about 10 miles north of Ozark. A note found on the clinic door said: "Emergency, called out. Please come or call for appointment Wednesday."

Dr. Henry Scott of Birmingham, secretary-treasurer of the Alabama State Chiropractic Association, said Gault had been dropped from the association rolls in June 1960 for non payment of dues.

Few Unhappy About the TV Awards

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—If any people are really unhappy about Tuesday night's awards of Emmys, television's equivalent of the movies' Oscars, it must be the West Coast folk who proclaim so loudly that Hollywood is the television capital. Hollywood received 5 Emmys, compared with 15 for New York and 2 for Washington.

If there is another unhappy group it can only be the American Broadcasting Co. The network garnered but one during the evening, voted to Richard Rodgers for his score in last season's "Winston Churchill" series. NBC carried off 11 statues and CBS, 10.

The award ceremonies, on NBC, was a fast, no-nonsense show, and it finished only about 20 minutes overtime, which is better than par. Instead of spending a lot of time on special material—kiddin' Westerns and television commercials—it limited speeches to a few seconds—Julie Harris was the only one who cried—and, between presentations, used brief taped performances by the variety stars nominated for awards. This made good sense.

Speaking personally—and, after all, one's enjoyment of television is a very personal matter—this viewer thought the awards for the most part went into the hands of that most deserved them.

While I would not complain for a moment about Julie Harris' award for playing the title role, I would, however, quibble about "Victoria Regina" as television's "Program of the Year." It was a fine show but it was merely a faithful adaptation of a play which had been a Broadway hit.

CBS' "The Defenders" series made the record by picking up four of the previous statues—outstanding dramatic program, E. G. Marshall as outstanding series actor, writing and directorial awards, all thoroughly deserved. Certainly no program merited its award more than the weekly variety "Garry Moore Show," which never seems to have an off night. Carol Burnett, of course, has no peer in her own comedy and song field. Neither does Shirley Booth have much competition in the acting field. She was picked for her "outstanding continued performance" as the star of "Hazel."

The "Bob Newhart Show" earlier won a Peabody Award for comedy, and Tuesday night it got an Emmy for achievement in the field of humor. The program has been cancelled by its sponsor, so maybe next they'll give Bob an Emmy for outstanding irony.

The Huntley-Brinkley news team continued to be unbeatable, and David picked up an extra happy to see Carl Reiner get a statue for his "Journal," which some recognition for "The Dick Van Dyke Show," as a talented, if balding, writer.

Robberies reported to U. S. city police departments in 1960 increased 17.3 per cent over the preceding year.

U. S. Alarmed Over China Refugees

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. officials are becoming alarmed about the massive flow of refugees from Communist China into the British crown colony of Hong Kong.

The exodus has become so great that thousands of refugees are being sent back across the border.

The White House, State Department and other government authorities are trying to figure out how the United States can help Britain deal with the situation. Shipments of food and other relief supplies are possible as a first step.

President Kennedy was expected to discuss the problem at his news conference late today. In a message Tuesday to the United States Committee for Refugees, meeting here, he said the United States must show compassion to all those who flee from Communist tyranny.

On Capitol Hill there were demands that the United States use its huge resources of surplus foods to help the Chinese refugees.

A Senate Judiciary subcommittee plans to open an inquiry next week into the plight of the refugees. State Department officials will testify Tuesday.

In Toronto, Prime Minister John Diefenbaker said that Canada will admit 100 families of the refugees immediately. He said Canada also will provide food and relief for the refugees in Hong Kong.

The Chinese Nationalist government on Formosa has shown a definite interest in taking refugees. But the belief in Washington is that the number of those who may get to Formosa will probably total only a few thousand. The need is for resettlement of scores of thousands.

An estimated 9,000 refugees were caught after they got through the border barricades into Hong Kong during the previous 48 hours, officials reported Tuesday. This brought to nearly 50,000 the number rounded up and forced bly returned since May 1. Another 8,000 to 10,000 were believed to have found haven in Hong Kong's crowded tenements.

One of the alarming elements in the situation was U. S. officials see it is the danger of an eruption of violence in the crowded British colony where facilities already are so strained that British authorities feel it necessary to turn back into Red China thousands who crossed the border.

The danger arises from the fact that the hundreds of thousands of Chinese who took refuge in Hong Kong in earlier years are sympathetic with the needs of their fellow countrymen and resent their being returned behind the barbed wire barricades.

Another source of anxiety here is that the outpouring of refugees is only at a beginning and that every effort to provide relief may prove in the long run to be an added inducement for more Chinese to make their way across the border.

Three in five U. S. workers go to work in automobiles, one in eight uses public transportation and one in 10 walks to work.

Idaho's Buckaroo Beans

If you aren't acquainted with Idaho's dappled beans known as "Pintos," a pot of Buckaroo Beans made with this Western favorite will provide a perfect introduction and lead you into meeting another of the famous Idaho Bean family—the Red Bean. Either can be used in this hearty low-cost all-in-the-pot meal, obligingly slow-simmered either on the newest of thermostatically-controlled range surface units or over the glowing coals of a camp fire, with practically no watching and few dishes to wash. And what a meal it is! This recipe makes 6 substantial servings.

2 cups Idaho dry Pinto Beans 2 fat cloves garlic, minced
6 cups cold water 1 small bayleaf, left whole
1 large or 2 medium onions, 1/2 pound smoked ham, slab thick-sliced or chopped

Add washed beans to the water, allow to soak overnight in a heavy kettle. Or, in the morning, boil beans 2 minutes in the water. Remove from heat, cover, soak 1 hour. Add other ingredients. Smoked ham should be cut in 1/2 inch cubes. Slab bacon or salt pork (salt washed off) should be sliced twice each way not quite to rind. Bring to boiling point rapidly. Reduce heat to slow simmer. Cover tightly. Cook 1 1/2 hours. Then add

2 cups canned tomatoes 2/3 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 cup chopped green pepper 1/4 teaspoon oregano OR 2 teaspoons chili powder 1/4 teaspoon ground cumin
2 tablespoons brown sugar salt if needed

Rapidly bring to boiling point. Reduce to slow-simmer. Taste for salt. Cover. Simmer about 2 hours.

There should be enough liquid left on the beans to resemble a medium-thick gravy. If cooked at this slow-simmer stage, the beans will not stick to the pot. Serve in large heated soup dishes or over-size coffee cups, with piping-hot buttered corn bread and cool crisp relishes; dessert—lemon, orange or pineapple sherbet or simple pudding with butter cookies.

Bearden Plant Has Expanded

BEARDEN, Ark. (AP)—Bearden Enterprises, a home-owned garment manufacturer, has opened a new factory in Bearden and plans to employ 25 to 50 additional workers.

Charles Epling, plant manager, said the plant will be in full operation by July 1. The original factory was built six years ago. It employs 100 workers.

The plant makes jackets, smocks and blouses.

Against Cut in National Guard

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Lt. Col. Frank Angelo, commanding officer of the 875th Engineers Battalion, is scheduled to appear before the House Armed Services Subcommittee in Washington today to testify against a proposed cut in National Guard strength.

Angelo will be accompanied by Rep. E. C. Gathings, D-Ark.

A recent proposal to reduce the strength of the guard would eliminate the 875th Engineers, which has more than 500 men at Jonesboro and 135 at Stuttgart.

The Jonesboro Chamber of Commerce led a strong local protest against the proposed cut. Arkansas' two senators and the congressional delegation have voiced their opinion against the reduction in the size of the guard.

Convict Escapes From Tucker

TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP)—A 23-year-old convict from Chicago escaped from Tucker Prison Farm Tuesday night, and was still at large today.

Capt. Jim Bruton, assistant superintendent of the state prison, said the man is James Malcaluso, who was convicted of burglary, grand larceny and for possession of stolen goods.

Malcaluso is 5-8, 146 pounds with brown hair and blue eyes.

Bruton said the prisoner was tracked to the Dudley Lake area, two miles northeast of the prison.

Bruton also said the escapee is barefoot. Malcaluso was seen leaving a garden squad Tuesday afternoon, Bruton said. The area around the prison is being combed by sheriff's deputies, State Police and other law enforcement officers.

Vote So Close Oklahoma Not Sure Now

By SHELBY SCATES

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—W. P. Bill Atkinson, a millionaire home builder apparently defeated former Gov. Raymond Gary Tuesday in the run-off primary for Democratic nomination for governor of Oklahoma.

However, the vote was so close the official tabulation—or a recount—could reverse it.

To guard ballot boxes until the official tabulation is completed, Gov. J. Howard Edmondson dispatched state highway patrolmen to each of the state's 77 county election board offices.

Edmondson ordered National Guardsmen to relieve the state troopers later today.

Cause of the concern was the 533 votes separating Atkinson and Gary and the prospects of a recount.

The official vote tabulation was not expected until Saturday. Complete, but unofficial returns, from all 3,143 precincts gave Atkinson 232,023 votes, Gary 231,490.

The winner will face farmer Henry Bellmon in the November general election. Bellmon won the Republican nomination against a runoff May 1.

Atkinson, 55, who made his fortune developing suburban Midwest City, trailed Gary by 85,000 votes in the May 1 primary, when the pair led off of 12.

Gary, 54, indicated he might call for a recount if the official tabulation still shows him trailing. Gary sought to become the first two-term governor in Oklahoma's history.

Key issues in the race were state finances and legislative reapportionment.

Edmondson can't succeed himself under the state's constitution.

Fruit trees should be pruned annually, usually while the trees are dormant, but some pinching-off should be done throughout the growing season.

A Garden Is a Garden—Regardless

By JOY STILLER

NEW YORK (AP)—My garden doesn't grow with silver bells and corkle shells, but the things it does grow with are just as strange.

My garden isn't even outside. It's on window sills, tables, bookshelves, shelves and counter tops and there's even an apartment-sized tree growing out of a big pot on his living room floor.

As a matter of fact, it isn't my garden at all. It belongs to my husband. He tenderly places the seeds and bulbs in the dirt. I only water the plants, dust them, ply them with the latest scientific food, move them from window to window to get the sunshine and pick up the dead leaves that clutter the floor.

The horticultural expert in our family is a great believer in trying to grow anything different and unusual. No petunias or zinnias for him.

Every year he studies the seed catalogs with more enthusiasm than wisdom, and would send off for everything in them if there were just a few more window sills around.

The last time he ordered he picked out the most exotic item offered—birds of paradise seeds, which were described in glowing terms that would put a sunset to shame.

These arrived in due time, but though they were very interesting—having little tufts of what looked like orange feathers all around them—he couldn't decide which end was up. Just to be on the safe side, he planted half of them one way and half the other.

The directions did mention that it would take constant watering and three months for them to germinate, so we marked the expected date of the coming blessed event on the calendar and sat back to water and to wait.

Sure enough, just about three months from the time they hit pay dirt, we did too. One little green shoot came poking its way out of the soil.

This was a time of great excitement for my gardener. No hello kiss for me when he came home until after he'd checked the progress of the little plant. It wasn't until about a week later that we recognized it as a marigold plant that had sprouted from a seed left in the dirt he used. We are still waiting for the birds of paradise to fly up.

The seeds of any fruit or vegetable that find their way into our refrigerator later find their way into one of my husband's clay pots.

Unfortunately, he just drops them in at random and when a shoot appears we never know whether it's going to grow into an apple tree or a watermelon.

All About Dogs

The History Of Feeding

During the ice-age, man and dog were arch enemies—both stalking the same game. First evidence of domesticated dogs turned up in Bonnie Scotland and chill Scandinavia where, in 8000 B.C., man and dog made their peace. First hunting together, they soon learned to live together. Ancient dog owners depended on unusual feeding methods. Some tried to keep new meat edible by burying it. Others whitewashed meat and hung it up a tree for storage.

In the days of Henry VIII, dogs ate as regally as their masters. Both sometimes dined on such delicacies as venison in sour cream, roast swan and stewed sea gull.

Nowadays, feeding dogs is less complicated and more scientific. "In fact," says Clarence C. Fawcett of the Purina Dog Care Center "in many homes, the dog actually receives a more balanced diet than the family."

"Variety is not essential for dogs," he adds. "A good commercial dog ration may be fed daily and is preferable to table scraps." Large knucklebones of beef may be fed but avoid smaller bones which tend to splinter. Always have fresh water where your dog can drink at will and never feed him raw eggs or fish.

"The most important thing to remember," says Mr. Fawcett "is feed him like a dog!"

Committee Chops Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has recommended a $42,000,000 foreign aid program.

The committee voted approval 14-3 Tuesday after reducing President Kennedy's request by $21.5 million.

The bill is an authorization fixing ceilings and conditions. It will be followed by a separate measure appropriating funds.

The committee approved an amendment to deny assistance to nations which nationalize or expropriate American-owned property without providing adequate compensation.

Some Facts of Life in Arkansas

By J. C. TILLMAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

A Fayetteville mother seeking a master's degree at the University of Arkansas has come up with a new way of "cribbing."

But apparently it is all right with university officials.

Mrs. Hanna Hedrick, studying for an M.A. in comparative literature under a fellowship, couldn't find a baby sitter when her regular one was unavailable the other day, so she showed up for class, baby and crib in arms.

Twelve-day old Carter Hedrick took the academic venture in stride. His father is stationed in Colorado with the Air Force.

Old-time rail fences are a rarity, associated with the early days of Arkansas. George Youngblood has, near De Queen, one of the longest and oldest around. Built over 60 years ago, it still stretches about as far as the eye can see.

Youngblood says the fence still serves the purpose for which he built it.

When the Contemporary American Ceramics exhibition opened in Washington, D.C. recently, Arkansas was represented by an exhibit that drew more than usual attention.

A display of over a ton of perfect quartz crystal from the Ouachita Mountain area was sent to the capital in 1939-49 and was used in the exhibition. One piece stands nearly six feet tall and weighs 1,200 pounds. The other two weigh 400 and 500 pounds.

The crystal got to Washington through the efforts of the late John Lewis Jr., who invited the Smithsonian Institute to look into the quartz to be found in the area. The institute sent a representative and found the crystal on

Dangerous Drivers

Although they comprise less than 14 per cent of the U. S. driving population, motorists under 25 years of age were involved in nearly 29 per cent of the fatal accidents of 1960.

Fisher Mountain

Hobbyist Conway Huddleston of Batesville has earned a name as an opportunist. When a swarm of honeybees started to light on the courthouse lawn near his clothing store recently, he sent home after a beehive and went to work. Within minutes after they clustered in a small cedar tree, Huddleston had a new hive full of bees.

Jury Returns 11 True Bills

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Eleven true bills were returned here Tuesday by a federal grand jury.

Two of the indictments were in the Texarkana division, five in the El Dorado division and two in Hot Springs. The nature of the remaining two was not revealed.

In the Hot Springs division, John Dewey McConnell was indicted on a charge of possessing untaxed liquor and Mart in Louis Friedman on a charge of engaging in interstate transfer of stolen money with intent to defraud. In the Texarkana division, Leslie Melvin Simmons is accused of transporting a stolen car from California to Arkansas and Darrell Edward Smiley of transporting one from Oklahoma to Arkansas.

Liquor law violations were returned in the El Dorado division against Aret Arterio Dawson (one count) and Darrell H. Pope, William D. Moreland and William C. Teutuch (three counts each). The fifth was against Mayre Jo Boatwright, accused of misapplying school funds while employed at an El Dorado bank.

Some 10 million American homes used central oil heating during 1961.

Nat'l China Offers Home to Refugees

By SPENCER MOOSA

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Vice President Chen Cheng met with the Nationalist Chinese government's special refugee committee today to begin planning for the resettlement of refugees from Red

China who are willing to come to Formosa.

President Chiang Kai-shek's government set up the committee Monday after a storm of criticism because it had offered a haven to only a comparative few of the thousands of refugees British officials are barring from overcrowded Hong Kong.

It was generally believed, however, that most of the refugees want to remain in Hong Kong, close to their homeland, rather than come to comparatively remote Formosa. Many of the refugees have relatives in the British crown colony, which has given haven to more than 1.5 million Chinese since the Communists conquered the mainland 14 years ago.

Officials said that to expedite the flow of those willing to come to Formosa, security screening would take place after they reach the Nationalist island.

Newspapers in Formosa threw their support behind the government's decision and also backed up the government's appeal for assistance from other non-Communist countries.

Officials of the Hong Kong government had no official comment on the Nationalist offer, leaving that to their parent government in London. Privately, however, considerable skepticism was expressed.

"We can't be sure when or how many will be taken by Taipei, if indeed, any are taken in appreciable numbers," said one source.

New and Easy

Money-Saving Main Dish

This meat balls and spaghetti dish is as delicious as any you've tasted — but there is a welcome difference, as you will see from the recipe. It is prepared in only one skillet — a streamlined method which saves time and dishwashing!

The all-important meat balls are plump and richly juicy, due to the use of undiluted evaporated milk as the "binder." This double-rich whole milk, which brings about marked improvement in texture, at the same time steps up the food value. Incidentally, you can use this same meat mixture to make a moist and flavorful meat loaf — just shape and bake.

SKILLET MEAT BALLS AND SPAGHETTI

1 pound ground beef 1/2 cup butter or fat
1 cup soft bread crumbs 1/2 cup chopped green pepper, 2 dashed
1 cup chopped onion, divided 1/2 cup tomato juice
2 teaspoons salt, divided 1 teaspoon chili powder
Dash of pepper 1 pkg. (7 oz.) spaghetti, broken in small pieces (about 2 cups uncooked)
1/2 cup evaporated milk 2 tablespoons flour

Mix together lightly but thoroughly ground beef, bread crumbs, 1/2 cup of the onion, 1 teaspoon of the salt, pepper and evaporated milk. Shape mixture into 12 balls. Boil and coat each ball in flour. Melt butter in a large skillet over low heat. Add meat balls and brown on all sides over medium heat. Push balls to sides of pan. Place remaining 1/2 cup onion and green pepper in center of pan and cook until tender. Pour tomato juice over meat balls and sprinkle with remaining 1 teaspoon salt and the chili powder. Bring to a boil over high heat. Add spaghetti and stir to moisten. Cover skillet, reduce heat as low as possible and cook, stirring occasionally, until spaghetti is tender, about 40 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

*Approximately 1 1/2 slices bread, pulled into crumbs.

Lawmaker Took Money From Estes

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Rep. J. T. Rutherford, D-Tex., acknowledged he received a $1,500 check from indicted financier Billie Sol Estes, the Dallas News reported.

In a dispatch Tuesday by Robert E. Baskin of its Washington bureau, the newspaper gave these details:

Rutherford said he examined his records during the weekend and found to his surprise that Estes gave him the check as a campaign donation while visiting the congressman's Washington office Jan. 17.

"I could have dropped my teeth," Rutherford said.

He told newsmen earlier he received no financial assistance from Estes and their relations were "friendly but formal."

The check was delivered 11

Public Meet on Urban Plant

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — A public meeting to discuss a proposed urban renewal program for El Dorado will be held tonight in the El Dorado Junior High School cafeteria.

The meeting was called by the El Dorado Citizens Progress Committee, which was appointed in January by Mayor Roy Goudy and the El Dorado City Council.

El Dorado is the only one of the larger cities in the state which is not in some phase of urban renewal.

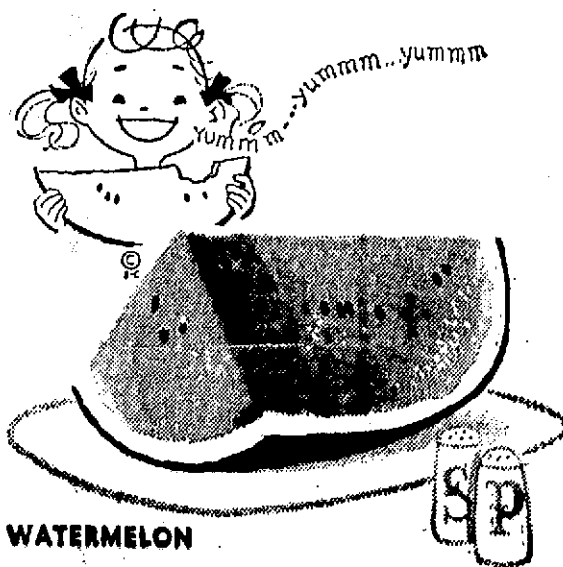

Days after Rutherford arranged a conference with Agriculture Department officials for Estes on the financier's cotton allotment difficulties, Rutherford and Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., accompanied Estes and his lawyer to the meeting.

The Agriculture Department subsequently decided to defer cancellation of Estes' 1961 and 1962 allotments, which its general counsel had declared illegal.

Rutherford said the $1,500 was the only money he ever received from Estes and he was told other Pecos, Tex., residents joined Estes in the contribution. He said the others were Marcus Dingle, a Pecos farmer, and Dingle's son-in-law, whose name the congressman did not know.

Dingle farms drew an $8,399.94 penalty for illegal cotton allotments May 9, when the Agriculture Department also levied $544,182 in like penalties against Estes.

IRS Thinks Young FDR Owes Money

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. Tax Court records show the government claims Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., son of the late president, has an alleged $38,736 deficiency in his 1958 income tax.

Internal Revenue Service officials said Monday Roosevelt reported a taxable income of $29,026, and they contend his income was $67,762.

The court record showed Roosevelt is contesting $12,647 of the tax. He said $18,615 he received from production of the play "Sunrise at Campobello" was compensation for loss of privacy and actual damage and was not taxable income.

The play, later turned into a film, was written by Dore Schary and was based on a period of the late president's life.

Tax officials said another item involved in the case is $45,409 in partnership income they said was omitted in Roosevelt's return. Papers filed with the court alleged the money was income from Roosevelt-Cullum Motors.

Roosevelt petitioned the court May 11 to subtract $12,647 from the $38,736 that the government says he owes. He said the money received from Schary was not ordinary income.

He said the compensation was agreed on before Schary began writing the play.

The court records showed Roosevelt, on behalf of his family, and Schary signed an agreement in 1957 providing for a share of the profits from the play to go to the family. The play was produced in 1954 and Roosevelt reported receiving $18,615 as his share.

Will Try to Establish Relations

SEARCY, Ark. (AP)—Brig. Gen. William P. Campbell (USA, Ret.) said today the Governor's Advisory Commission on Migratory Farm Labor, which he heads, probably will find itself involved "in a little international relations" soon.

Campbell, 65, of Searcy, was elected chairman of the commission at its first meeting in Little Rock Monday.

"We want foreign laborers who come to Arkansas to think well of us, and of the United States," Campbell said. "We plan to do a little international relations. We want them to take the right kind of picture back home with them."

Campbell, who was born in Augusta, said the commission hopes to help migrant farm laborers economically, socially and religiously.

"I don't mean by religion any special church," he said. "We want to provide worship services for all religions."

Within a week, Campbell said, the executive committee members will submit several recommendations to him, dealing with the operating plan, the project and the responsibilities of the commission.

He said the commission probably will hire an executive director full time to be stationed at the state Capitol.

"As yet," Campbell said, "we have no specific recommendations, but we're anxious to go into action."

Campbell is vice president of the National Education Program, an anti-communist organization headed by Dr. George S. Henson, president of Harding College.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus set up the commission to help farm workers who come to the state to harvest cotton and other crops.

The Most Rev. A. L. Fletcher, Bishop of the Little Rock Diocese of the Catholic Church, is chairman of the executive committee. Members of the committee include J. C. Purvis of Lepanto, Mr. Carroll C. Cannon of Forrest City, Lewis Johnson and James T. Karam, both of Little Rock.

State Employment Security Division administrator J. L. Blund said he will be able to provide a secretary and other help for the program.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Thirty-seven Negro students were assigned Tuesday to schools here, including two to a formerly all-white junior high school.

Two were assigned to Pulaski Heights junior high school, integrated for the first time. The assignments brought to 33 the number of Negro students attending integrated high schools and 46 attending junior high schools.

Eight more Negro students were assigned to Central, four to Hall and two to Technical High School.

The school board said the assignments will be officially made on report cards to be delivered May 31. The assignments, it said, resulted from more than a hundred requests by Negro students.

Both Central and Hall will have a Negro graduate student this year.

What Field of Science Is Studying

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Clues that may detect likely candidates for future heart attacks and possible precautionary steps for avoiding such seizures figure in the medical news this week.

Coronary Proneness?
Dr. Harold Z. Pomerantz of Montreal, Canada, has unearthed evidence that early graying of hair, large wrists and a white ring at the edge of the cornea of the eye known as arcus senilis are traits that might identify individuals predisposed to coronary artery disease.

He found these traits appeared from two to three times more frequently in a group of 6 coronary patients than in a group of 55 normal controls.

Wrists 8 or more inches in circumference were defined as large to massive and measurements under 6 1/2 inches were classified as small. The occurrence of moderate graying of the hair and premature graying before age 35 was found to be highly significant in the coronary group 46 years and older.

A comprehensive study of 156 marathon runners has convinced Dr. Joseph B. Wolfe, medical director of Valley Forge Heart Research Institute, that the best protection against hardening of the arteries is a lifetime of physical activity.

He found that blood cholesterol levels, a suspected cause of coronary artery disease, and actual signs of hardening of the arteries were much less in marathon runners than in the general population. The runners ranged from 17 to 63 years of age.

Supermarket Produce Has Festive Air

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Supermarket produce counters are taking on a festive air with the arrival of increasing numbers of watermelons, cherries, blackberries, peaches, cantaloupes and strawberries.

As the harvest of these delicacies moves northward with the season, prices are falling steadily.

Vegetable selections also show the effect of the calendar's progress, with sweet corn, snap beans, asparagus, radishes and cucumbers becoming available at correspondingly lower prices.

For main courses, there is a good selection of easily cooked items — pork chops, ground beef and bacon.

Smoked hams and picnics and rump, round and chuck roasts are widely featured. Lower prices on cheese and other dairy products also assist in fixing the quick, light meal. For budget stretching, broiler-fryers and turkeys are again top nominees as prices continue very low.
